COORDINATION OF TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE
FOR AFRICAN STATISTICAL DEVELOPMENT

Coordination of Technical Assistance for African Statistical Development

British Overseas Development Ministry

Introduction

This submission could not be included with the other bilateral agencies at Part C of E/CN.14/PSD.1/16 of 15 February 1980. It is now circulated as a conference paper and is available only in English.

The information concerning cost are based on the average cost and not actual expenditures.

Appendix A. contains estimated total cost of other technical assistance activities in statistics, estimated cost of provision of experts, and, estimated fellowship costs.

Appendix B contains names of experts by field of activity, by country and length of stay.

Appendix C contains number of fellowships awarded and utilised by country and field of statistical activity.

Method of requesting Technical Assistance

Countries wishing to obtain technical assistance in statistics should make formal application through the British High Commission or Embassy in their country, or if the request is for training, through the appropriate British Council representative. Countries are asked to have discussed their requests informally with the ODA's Statistics Division before formal requests are made.

The ODA will consider technical assistance for training in the United Kingdom (or a third country if the required training is unavailable in U.K.); in provision of experts for short or long duration, and in special cases, technical assistance to meet other costs of statistical programmes, including local costs.
