ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR AFRICA
Sixth session
Addis Ababa, 19 February - 3 March 1964
Item 10 of the revised provisional agenda

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE ACTIVITIES IN AFRICA OF THE INTERNATIONAL CIVIL AVIATION ORGANIZATION

(prepared by ICAO)

1. The ICAO Technical Assistance Programme has been in operation in African countries since 1950. By 1963, ICAO Technical Assistance Missions had been established in fourteen African countries, with the size of the individual missions varying from one hundred and twenty experts (in Congo (Leopoldville)) down to single-expert missions. Fellowships for training in the field of civil aviation were provided for students from six additional African countries which did not request direct assistance from ICAO experts.
2. The work of the ICAO missions has been primarily of a training and advisory character to assist developing States in the establishment of Government Civil Aviation Administrations. The establishment of efficient administrations will greatly assist the development of civil aviation to useful ends, and it will permit the States concerned to meet in increasing measure, their responsibilities as signatories of the Convention on International Civil Aviation.
3. ICAO Technical Assistance programmes are financed either from the United Nations Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance or the United Nations Special Fund. Under EPTA, programmes are developed on a biennium basis; experts, training equipment and/or fellowships are provided in accordance with the requests of the States concerned through the normal programming arrangements of the United Nations Technical Assistance Board.
